Applications Support for New or Replacement Pumps

The next few slides will identify where to send Quotation and Customer Service request.

Applications Engineers are divided by market to best be able to assist with specific product technical needs within each market.

Customer Service serves all markets for new and replacement pump requests.

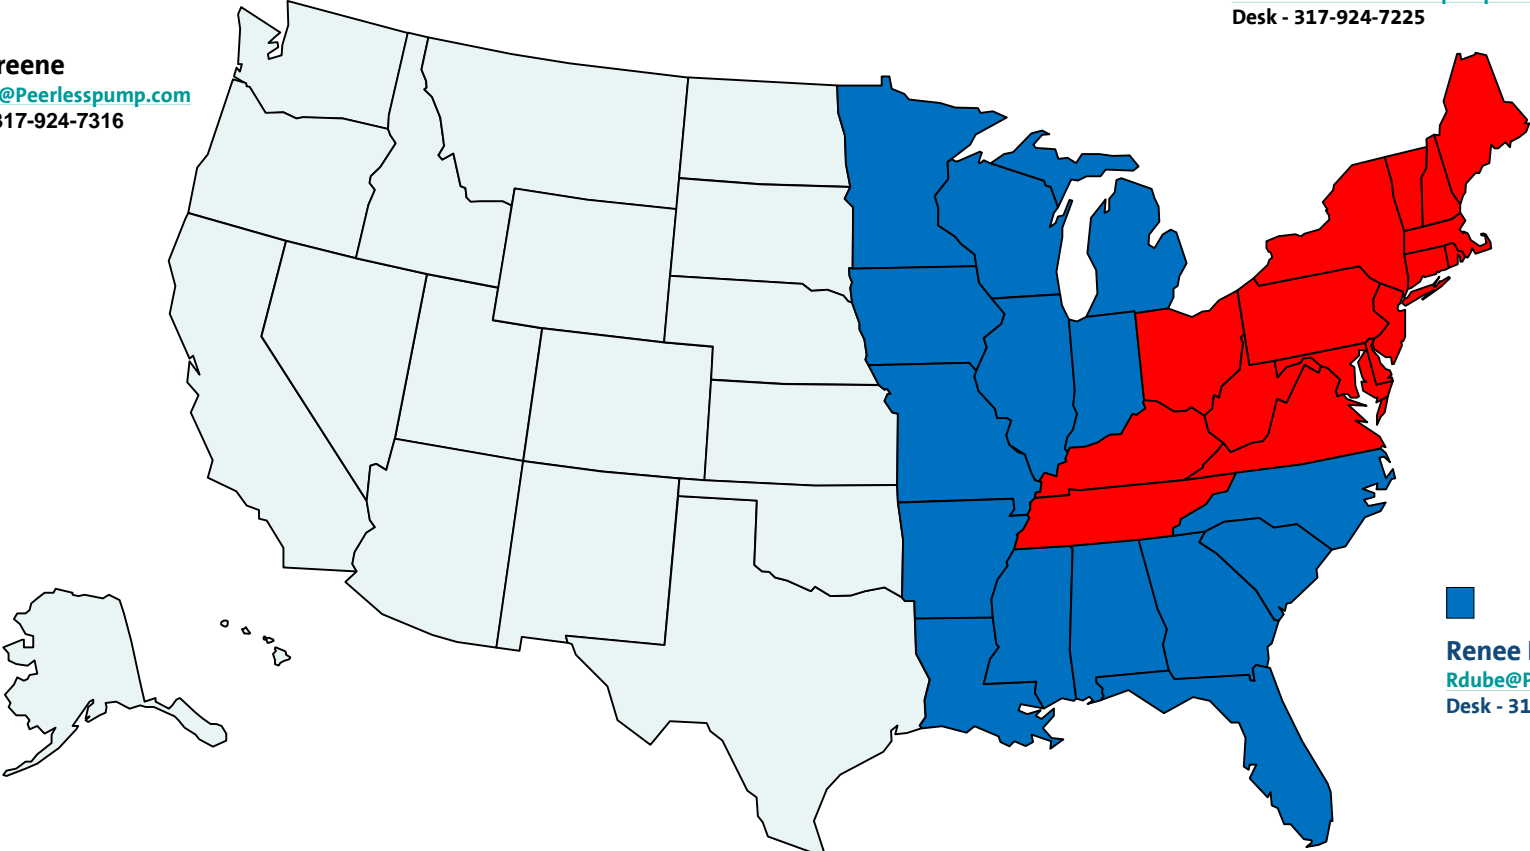

*If a request is sent to the incorrect contact person, we will strive to quickly reroute it internally. It could cause slight delays and we always welcome a quick call or email if any clarification is needed.
